JUDGES COMMENTS:

This is an outstanding class of birds.
Top row are of very high quality.
Winner is an absolute standout. He has everything you can ask for. The tail is not 100% and we did penalise him for that but he is too strong - a magnificent budgie that we all aspire to breed.
Congratulations to the winner.

2ND GREEN 2010

BARRY WHALAN NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS:

The second placed bird is the unluckiest green you will ever see at a national having met the first place getter today. It is another outstanding bird as well with great shape and everything you could ask for. Perhaps his spots could be a fraction bigger and have a bit more impact but unfortunately he met something out of the ordinary today.

JUDGED BY: Malcolm Loveridge & Stephen Mow

3RD GREEN 2010

Sheppard & Flanagan VIC

JUDGES COMMENT

The third bird is another powerful bird which is strong in the body and shoulder, has good feather and nice wide head but what he doesn't have which the first two have is the release of feather at the top which would make him look much more powerful.

CAGE F

This bird had impact, length and show presence, albeit missing some flights. Won the class.

CAGE J

This bird also had impact, length and in excellent condition.

Did not have the impact of the other 2 on the day. This was a class we believed we could do very well in. 1st & 3rd an excellent result.

JUDGES COMMENTS

A lovely class to judge right down to around 13th placing. A very even standard across all the birds on the top row. Any bird from 1 to 7 could easily win a National Award

First bird is an outstanding bird . Shape, size, beautiful mask, super feathering. Same quality as the Light Green yesterday – just a super budgerigar.

JUDGED BY: Alistair Home & Gary Gazzard

2ND GREYGREEN 2010

Sheppard & Flanagan VIC

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second bird was very unlucky to meet the first place getter today. A real power bird – beautiful face, shoulder, size of spot etc – a very nice bird.

JUDGED BY: Alistair Home & Gary Gazzard

3RD GREYGREEN 2010

JUDGES COMMENTS.

Third place is another really nice bird with deep mask, a cleaner head but lacks the impact in the shoulder of the first two placings.

JUDGES COMMENTS

A rather interesting class. There were a few concerns right across the class with condition and problems with variety especially bloom through the back of the neck and down to the wings. First place is a really nice hen who is very powerful. She has a few pins on the head is down a little on spots but strength through the face really won it for her. She has nice strong shoulder and face.

JUDGED BY: Alistair Home & Garry Gazzard

2ND BLUE 2010

Sheppard & Flanagan VIC

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second is a cock bird with a little blood above the cere so his condition was not quite right. He is a nice steady bird with nice outline and nice blow.

JUDGES COMMENTS

Another great class to judge right down to 11th or 12th placings.

The bird in first place picked himself from the word go. He is very strong, an outstanding Grey cock on a similar level to the big Light Green and Yellow Face we saw yesterday. He is an absolute super bird. Lovely width of face and mask, wonderful even big spots, a real showman.

JUDGED BY: Malcolm Loveridge & Stephen Mow.

2ND GREY

2010

J Lloyd & Sons WA

JUDGES COMMENTS

The second bird we originally had him in 4th or 5th place and the reason for that was he has a tendency to have his flights all over the place so it could be just a conditioning thing but when we eventually got him up on the perch another big strong budgie and anyone would be pleased to have him in their aviary. The only thing that makes him different from the first bird is that he doesn't have the directional feather coming out from the cere as it has a tendency to go backwards and then up.

JUDGED BY: Malcolm Loveridge & Stephen Mow.

3RD GREY 2010

Sheppard & Flanagan VIC

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third place is another really solid type of budgie. He probably has the thickest and widest top end of all of them here but we had particular problem of getting him to get him on the perch for any length of time. The mask and spots also require trimming.

JUDGED BY: Malcolm Loveridge & Stephen Mow.

Quite a difficult class to judge.

We had quite a dilemma with the first two birds .

First is the best bird with great body, shoulder and head but penalised heavily for markings but we felt she was so far in front of the other birds she had to win.

JUDGED BY: Malcolm Loveridge and Stephen Moe.

We found a lot of the birds had problems with markings and suffusion. The first placed bird has a very strong top end. It is a little longer in the wing which affected its outline and showed a little bump but still a very strong bird and is the best bird in the class by a mile.

JUDGED BY: Garry Gazzard and Alistair Home.

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third is another hen but outline let her down at times. She has a lovely face and mask and shows a nice brow for a hen. We had trouble with the birds trying to show themselves to the best capacity and in regards to that the remaining birds on the top shelf all had very even faces and all had good outlines but not enough impact to push the first three placings.

It was a pleasure to judge this class. Unfortunately Cage E was placed quite high originally but had to be disqualified as it displayed three forward toes at all times.

First is a hen that went to the front in the beginning and stayed there till the end. She did everything that was asked of her today. She is beautifully presented, got everything you require in a budgerigar, beautiful spots, beautiful mask, she is rock steady and an easy winner.

We did like the second placed bird, a beautiful sky cock bird, but he would not sit on the perches properly. He had a tendency to lie across the perch and we feel he needs about another two weeks to come in and it would make all the difference as he is not feather perfect but still a very strong bird.

JUDGES COMMENTS

It was a pleasure to judge this class as there are some very nice birds in the top row. First two birds are lovely birds. The first placed bird showed all through the judging and didn't put a foot wrong. It just sat there and said pick me. It has a beautiful outline with lovely length, it has a little bit of suffusion but it didn't affect it enough to be beaten.

JUDGES COMMENTS

The class we have been waiting for. We have been looking all day for a class that would really grab our attention and this is a strong class maybe right down to tenth placing.

The class is really worth looking at although some of the top birds have one or two flights missing. The top three or four birds are really powerful and really outstanding birds.

The winner has probably everything in favour for head features are really strong, width and blow, back skull, nice style of body, good length. He didn't give as much as he could have but he gave enough.
