JUDGES COMMENTS

First bird is a really super Greygreen Hen – much stronger than any of the cock birds benched. This bird caught our eyes from the start. Really nice feather above the eyes. She is a big powerful bird with great shoulder, mask and spot

JUDGED BY: Peter Glassenbury & Matthew Campbell

2ND GREYGREEN 2012

Gary Gazzard NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second place is a cock bird which again is a big powerful bird, solid right throughout. Lovely face, good mask.

Little down in spot and has minor ticking. Not as solid through the neck and shoulder as the hen.

JUDGED BY: Peter Glassenbury & Matthew Campbell

3RD GREYGREEN 2012

JUDGES COMMENTS.

Third is another cock bird with lovely directional feather and cap but lacking width of the first two birds in the neck and shoulder regions.

JUDGES COMMENTS

First bird is a powerful bird, a super Sky blue with very long feather, good head width and lovely shoulder. Whoever prepared this bird did a wonderful job because with such long feathering it is very difficult to bring them into such lovely show condition. This bird stood out.

JUDGED BY: Mark Bridgeman & Matthew Campbell

2ND BLUE 2012

Ian Hanington NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second is a lovely Violet cock with good feather, super length and good variety colour and lovely width of head. He is missing one flight and was penalized for this and moved down but his quality brought him back up to second placing. He has good width of head and can really lift the cap feather and when he does he is magnificent.

JUDGED BY: Mark Bridgeman & Matthew Campbell

3RD BLUE 2012

Norm Wheatley

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third bird is another Sky Blue cock bird. He is a long bird but tends to pull in a lot. When he decides to let go, he is a lovely bird. He is also missing one flight and was penalized accordingly.

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second is down a little in power but still a stylish bird. Excellent type, markings and head.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Mark Bridgeman

3RD GREY 2012

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third bird is another large powerful bird but a little down in condition with loose feather and a lot of opalescence particularly in the neck area and not black and white in the markings.

Overall a top quality class of birds along the top line.

JUDGES COMMENTS

A couple of birds here are probably lucky we have this particular lighting in this hall as the body colour is showing signs of grey but not in the cheek patches so we let them go.

We have to make comment on the last placed bird – we are judging Yellows and this bird is very suffused. First bird is a lovely hen which is strong in the body, deep colour. She has a good head with strong shoulder. She is a worthy winner.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Peter Glassenbury

2ND BLACK EYE 2012

Peter Dodd NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS

Actually eight out of the twenty one birds benched have blue feet and this is strange as usually we have fifteen of the twenty one birds with pink feet seeing they were bred through Cinnamons.

Second is a long cock bird but down a bit on colour but well placed due to size and deportment.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Peter Glassenbury

3RD BLACKEYE 2012

John Richardson NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third is a solid hen but was a little loose in the flights and where they sit which detracted from the overall bird's confirmation but still a nice bird.

It was very hard to find a bird to put straight up into first place – hard to find an impact bird. First four birds are on par and each has different features.

First place is a cock that is down in colour but has a large head, good length, outline and directional feather.

JUDGED BY: Peter Glassenbury and Matthew Campbell.

2ND LUTINO 2012

Caulfield Family VIC

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second is a hen and is the best presented bird benched as there is not a feather out of place. She has beautiful colour, good condition and conformation.

JUDGES COMMENTS

Very nice variety birds throughout this class. The top line is displaying size and substance with good variety characteristics.

First is a Light Green cock which is big and strong with good contrast with the yellow in the wing extending down to the flights. This bird also showed very well.

This bird has excellent length in body, nice width of head.

2ND CLEARWING 2012

Geoff O'Connor NSW

JUDGES COMMENTS

Second place is a Dark Factor Hen again with lovely contrast between the body and wing. Shows well and again is a strong bird. Super department with excellent contrast between wing and body colour. Super variety bird but not quite as big as the winner.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Mark Bridgeman

3RD CLEARWING 2012

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third place is a Dark Green cock and has the best feather and nice clear flights and good contrast and size but not quite as good in the department area. He doesn't lift cap so hard to judge his length of feather.

This was the best class we have judged so far. Top quality even on the bottom row.

The first bird is a standout. Lovely face and mask and if you were going to be negative at all, maybe lacks a bit in the body. Has excellent blow and width of head.

JUDGES COMMENTS

As much as we would have loved to put up nice clear capped and clear mantle birds unfortunately birds displaying those features were not as good in quality. The first four birds are all displaying flecking or ticking to some degree.

The first is a hen which showed the entire time. A strong hen with good direction of feather but flecked. Too strong overall for the flecking to impact.

Second bird just would not sit enough. She is a big strong brute of a hen and I think the breeder will have all the trouble in the world trying to breed with her. A huge framed hen that would not perch to see her full potential.

JUDGES COMMENTS

Third is another Opaline and has very good deportment, colour and face. Has a really excellent cap with good feather but is missing a few feathers in his head which detracted from his overall appearance.

JUDGES COMMENTS

There is a large gap between the first two placings and the rest of the class. The first is a Cobalt cock with super width of head, wide face, good feather length and direction and shows well. It has strong variety with good mask and spots. Not as long in the body as the second bird but stronger overall.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Mark Bridgeman

2ND FALLOW 2012

JUDGES COMMENTS

The first is a green hen which is a huge powerful hen with good head qualities. Markings for this variety should be between 10% to 20% - this bird is slightly over that. The other negative was the ticking on the head but seeing it is a hen, it is not as bad as they usually are. Her power carried her through.

JUDGED BY: Henry George & Mark Bridgeman

2ND RECESSIVE PIED 2012
